The House of Commons being come,

Their Speaker, the Honourable Louis René Beaudoin, said:—

“May it please Your Excellency,—

“The House of Commons has elected me their Speaker, though I am but little able to fulfil the important duties thus assigned to me.

“If, in the performance of those duties, I should at any time fall into error, I pray that the fault may be imputed to me, and not to the Commons, whose servant I am, and who, through me, the better to enable them to discharge their duty to their Queen and Country, humbly claim all their undoubted rights and privileges, especially that they may have freedom of speech in their debates, access to Your Excellency’s person at all seasonable times, and that their proceedings may receive from Your Excellency the most favourable interpretation.”

The Honourable the Speaker of the Senate answered:—

“Mr Speaker,—I am commanded by His Excellency the Governor General to declare to you that he freely confides in the duty and attachment of the House of Commons to Her Majesty’s Person and Government, and not doubting that their proceedings will be conducted with wisdom, temper and prudence, she grants, and upon all occasions will recognize and allow their constitutional privileges. I am commanded also to assure you that the Commons shall have ready access to His Excellency upon all seasonable occasions and that their proceedings, as well as your words and actions, will constantly receive from him the most favourable construction.”

His Excellency the Governor General was then pleased to open the Session by a Gracious Speech to both Houses, as follows:—

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

It is a pleasure for me to welcome you to the opening of the Twenty-second Parliament. This is a time when, if peace is maintained, we have every reason to look forward to the continuing development of this prosperous and happy nation.

The Coronation of our beloved Queen was an occasion for universal rejoicing. Her devotion to duty, her personal charm and her happy family life have assured Her Majesty of a warm place in the hearts of all her subjects and have strengthened our attachment to the Crown and to the traditions of our constitutional system of government.

Following the legislation enacted during the last Parliament, the changes in the Royal Style and Titles have been proclaimed by Her Majesty.

Much remains to be done before there can be a permanent and durable peace in the world. My Ministers therefore consider it would be unwise for the free nations to slacken our efforts to build up and maintain the necessary strength to deter aggression and they intend to continue to work to that end.

We have every reason for satisfaction that through the use for the first time of collective police action the objective of the United Nations in Korea has been substantially achieved. The aggressors have been driven back, the fighting has ceased and an armistice has been concluded. My government earnestly hopes that a political conference will ultimately succeed in restoring peace in Korea.

Canada has continued to contribute to those international projects which will promote human welfare and thereby remove some of the causes of unrest and dislocation. You will be asked to approve further assistance for relief and rehabilitation, for technical assistance and for continued participation in the Colombo plan.

The Alliance of the North Atlantic nations has been effective thus far in preventing aggression in Europe. My government continues to regard the Treaty as one of the foundation stones of Canada's external policy. The formation of the air division of the Royal Canadian Air Force in Europe is now completed. The Brigade group of the Canadian Army is performing its role effectively in the integrated force. Canadian Naval strength is increasing.

Canada's total volume of external trade has reached record levels. But dollar shortages in many countries have persisted and continue to create problems for some of our exporters. Another Commonwealth Conference with respect to financial and economic matters is to be held in Australia early in the New Year.

Tariff concessions negotiated at Geneva in 1947, at Annecy in 1949, at Torquay in 1950 and 1951 under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade have been extended for an additional period.

My Ministers are convinced that nations can best achieve economic strength and security through more liberal trade and overseas investment policies and they are continuing their efforts to bring about the progressive reduction of trade restrictions.

At home we continue to enjoy general prosperity although there are some sectors of our economy which have been faced with difficulties. Our farmers have harvested the second largest wheat crop in Canadian history. Private capital investment has reached levels never before attained. Employment is at high levels.

While more houses are being built this year than ever before, the growing population of Canada requires a continued expansion of housing. You will be asked to consider measures to increase and broaden the supply of mortgage money so that more people with moderate incomes will be able to find facilities to assist them to build their own homes.

A bill to amend the Animal Contagious Diseases Act to provide for appropriate compensation to farmers whose hogs suffered from cholera, will be placed before you.

The scheme initiated during the last Parliament for insuring boats and certain gear has recently been improved and is helping to meet the hazards of the fishing industry. My government is giving particular attention to the development of markets for our fisheries and to the encouragement of more modern methods in the Atlantic coast fisheries, particularly in the province of Newfoundland where the methods are in the greatest need of improvement.

The strategic importance of the northern part of Canada has increased greatly in recent years. Its place in the economy of Canada is steadily growing and will continue to expand in future. You will be asked to consider a Bill to change the designation and orientation of the Department of Resources and Development and to define the responsibilities of the government with respect to the affairs of the Yukon and the Northwest Territories, including the Arctic Archipelago, and the welfare of the Eskimos.

You will be asked to amend the Pipe Lines Act to give the Board of Transport Commissioners jurisdiction over all companies authorized to construct or operate interprovincial or international oil or gas pipe lines.

The New York State Power Authority has accepted a licence granted by the Federal Power Commission in the United States for the development of the United States share of power in the international rapids section of the St. Lawrence River. It is hoped that litigation in the United States will not have the effect of delaying the construction of the Project.

As further steps in helping to improve social welfare, co-ordinated plans for rehabilitation of disabled persons are being worked out with the provinces and a measure to facilitate the establishment nationwide of a Federal-Provincial assistance programme for totally disabled persons will be submitted for your consideration.

As provided by law you will be required to consider this year a complete revision of the Bank Act.

The bill for the complete revision of the Criminal Code which was not finally dealt with in the last Parliament will be submitted for your consideration.

A committee of penal experts has been appointed to examine and report upon methods of parole and remission of sentences.

Other measures which will be placed before you for consideration include Bills respecting the Canadian Forces; the United Kingdom Financial Agreement; the Ontario-Manitoba Boundary; the extension for another year of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance; and Bills to amend the Bank of Canada Act, the Municipal Grants Act, the Explosives Act, the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act, the Customs Act, the Excise Act, the Excise Tax Act, the Atomic Energy Control Act and certain Veterans Legislation.

Members of the House of Commons

You will be asked to make provision for all essential services including our national defence and the meeting of our obligations under the United Nations Charter and the North Atlantic Treaty.

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

May Divine Providence bless your deliberations and help us to come nearer to a true and lasting peace.

The Commons withdrew.

His Excellency the Governor General was pleased to retire.

The Senate was resumed.

The Honourable Senator Lambert, for the Honourable Senator Macdonald, presented to the Senate a Bill intituled: "An Act relating to Railways."

The said Bill was read the first time.

The Honourable the Speaker informed the Senate that a copy of the Speech of His Excellency the Governor General had been left in his hands.

The same was read by the Honourable the Speaker.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion it was—

Ordered, That the Speech of His Excellency the Governor General be taken into consideration on Tuesday, next.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion of the Honourable Senator Lambert, for the Honourable Senator Macdonald, it was—

Ordered, That all the Senators present during this Session be appointed a Committee to consider the Orders and Customs of the Senate and Privileges of Parliament, and that the said Committee have leave to meet in the Senate Chamber when and as often as they please.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion of the Honourable Senator Lambert, for the Honourable Senator Macdonald, it was—

Ordered, That pursuant to Rule 77, the following Senators, to wit: the Honourable Senators Aseltine, Beaubien, Gouin, Haig, Hugessen, Macdonald, McDonald, Quinn and Taylor be appointed a Committee of Selection to nominate Senators to serve on the several Standing Committees during the present Session; and to report with all convenient speed the names of the Senators so nominated.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion of the Honourable Senator Lambert, for the Honourable Senator Macdonald, it was—

Ordered, That when the Senate adjourns to-day, it do stand adjourned until Tuesday, next, at eight o'clock in the evening.

The Senate adjourned.

2. The Committee recommend the passage of an Act to dissolve the said marriage.

All which is respectfully submitted.

A. W. ROEBUCK,
Chairman.

On motion, it was—

Ordered, That the three hundred and thirty-ninth Report of the Standing Committee on Divorce, be taken into consideration at the next sitting of the Senate.

SPEAKER'S RULING:

At the last sitting of the Senate on March 4th, the Honourable Senator from Waterloo (Euler) said:

“May I ask His Honour the Speaker a question? Under the rules and regulations of the Senate we are not supposed to refer to the other place as “the House of Commons”. May I say that I myself never observe that regulation, because I do not see any good reason for it. But I notice that His Honour the Speaker mentions “the House of Commons”. I wonder whether he does so because of any special regulation.”

Section 17 of the British North America Act, 1867, is as follows:

“There shall be One Parliament for Canada, consisting of the Queen, an Upper House styled the Senate, and the House of Commons.”

In sending and receiving communications passing between the two Houses the Speaker adheres to the “Forms of Proceeding”, and recognized practice in describing the other branch of Parliament as “the House of Commons”.

There is no rule or regulation of the Senate that requires the Speaker or other Honourable Senators to refer to the other branch of Parliament by any other term than the expression “House of Commons”.

What the Honourable Senator from Waterloo probably had reference to was the unwritten law of Parliament that no allusion should be made in one House to the debates and proceedings of the other House during the current session.

In this connection I would cite the following:

Bourinot, 4th Edition, Page 357—

“It is also a part of the unwritten law of Parliament that no allusion should be made in one house to the debates in the other Chamber, a rule always enforced by the Speaker with the utmost strictness. Members sometimes attempt to evade this rule by resorting to ambiguous terms of expression—by referring, for instance, to what happened ‘in another place’; but all such evasions of a wholesome practice should be stopped by the Speaker, when it is evident to whom the allusions are made. It is perfectly regular however, to refer to the official printed records of the other branch of the legislature, even though the document may not have been formally asked for and communicated to the House.”

It is clear then that no attempt on the part of Honourable Senators to allude to the debates and proceedings of the other branch of parliament, during the current session, can properly succeed, whether the expression “House of Commons” or such evasions as “in another place” are used in the process. On the other hand, when it is in order to refer to the other branch of parliament, far from the term “House of Commons” being out of order, it is indeed the proper description to use.

The Order of the Day being called for the second reading of the Bill (S-11), intituled: “An Act respecting Trans-Canada Pipe Lines, Limited”, it was—Ordered, That the said Order of the Day be postponed until Monday, next.

Pursuant to the Order of the Day, the Honourable Senator Farris, for the Chairman of the Standing Committee on Divorce, moved that the following Bills be now read a second time:—

Bill (G-12), intituled: “An Act for the relief of Marie Jeannette Lucille Catherine Clement Cantin”;

THIRD REPORT

On January 12, 1954, the House of Commons passed the following Resolution:

That a Joint Committee of both Houses of Parliament be appointed to inquire into and report upon the questions whether the criminal law of Canada relating to (a) capital punishment, (b) corporal punishment or (c) lotteries should be amended in any respect and, if so, in what manner and to what extent;

That the Committee have power to appoint, from among its members, such subcommittees as may be deemed advisable or necessary; to call for persons, papers and records; to sit while the House is sitting and to report from time to time;

That the Committee have power to print such papers and evidence from day to day as may be ordered by the Committee for the use of the Committee and of Parliament, and that Standing Order 64 of the House of Commons be suspended in relation thereto;

And that a message be sent to the Senate requesting that House to unite with this House for the above purpose and to select, if the Senate deems advisable, some of its members to act on the proposed Joint Committee.

The following Members of the House of Commons were subsequently appointed to the Joint Committee:

Messrs. Boisvert, Brown (Brantford), Brown (Essex West), Cameron (High Park), Decore, Dupuis, Fairey, Fulton, Garson, Lusby, Mitchell (London), Montgomery, Murphy (Westmorland), Shaw, Thatcher, Valois and Winch.

On February 10, 1954, the following Resolution was adopted in the Senate:

That the Senate do unite with the House of Commons in the appointment of a Joint Committee of both Houses of Parliament to inquire into and report upon the questions whether the criminal law of Canada relating to (a) capital punishment, (b) corporal punishment or (c) lotteries, should be amended in any respect and, if so, in what manner and to what extent:

That the following Senators be appointed on behalf of the Senate on the said Joint Committee, namely, the Honourable Senators Aseltine, Beauregard, Bouffard, Farris, Fergusson, Hayden, Hodges, McDonald, Roebuck and Venoit.

That the Committee have power to appoint, from among its members, such subcommittees as may be deemed advisable or necessary and to sit while the House is sitting.

That the Committee have power to print such papers and evidence from day to day as may be ordered by the Committee for the use of the Committee and of Parliament. That the Committee have power to send for persons, papers and records, and to report to the Senate from time to time. That a message be sent to the House of Commons to inform that House accordingly.

On March 2, 1954, both Houses of Parliament authorized the Committee to retain the services of counsel.

The original membership of the Committee was changed on February 15 by the substitution of Mrs. Ann Shipley, M.P., for Mr. John Decore, M.P., and on March 5 by the substitution of Miss Sybil Bennett, M.P., for Mr. G. W. Montgomery, M.P.

On February 17, the Committee established a Subcommittee on Agenda and Procedure which was authorized, upon the adoption of its First and Second Reports, to prepare and arrange a schedule of witnesses with sittings to be held twice weekly insofar as practicable.

The Committee held its first sitting on February 17 for preliminary organization, meeting thereafter at least twice weekly, except during the Easter recess of Parliament, until June 2 when the last public hearing was held. Thereafter, the Committee's proceedings were devoted to preparing its report. In all, the Committee held 30 meetings, all of which were in open session excepting parts of those meetings devoted to discussions on procedure or to preparation of its report. The subcommittee held 17 meetings relating to the agenda and procedure of the Committee.

During the course of its inquiries, the Committee adduced evidence from individuals, organizations, and governmental sources indicated in Schedule A of the last issue (No. 18) of the Committee's printed proceedings. The Committee also had access to reports and documents, acquired or ordered for reference by the Committee, as listed in Schedule B of the same issue of the proceedings. In addition, the Committee received over 300 miscellaneous representations in the form of letters, resolutions, and petitions from individuals and organizations all across Canada which were considered and analyzed by the subcommittee on Agenda and Procedure for possible evidence or sources of information.

The Committee wishes to express its gratitude for the valuable assistance received from witnesses, individuals, organizations and provincial governments who made oral representations or submitted written evidence to the Committee. In addition, the Committee very much appreciates the assistance received from the Department of Justice, Counsel to the Committee, and the Committees Branches of both Houses of Parliament for their contributions in facilitating the work and proceedings of the Committee.

The Committee, recognizing that it is in the national interest to have a well informed public opinion concerning the three subject matters it has been considering, desires to express its appreciation of the contribution made to this end by the extensive and fair coverage given its proceedings by the press and radio of Canada.

The Committee urges that all national organizations interested in the problems before it, formulate their views during the Parliamentary recess and prepare to make their considered opinions known to the Committee at the next Session.

The Committee finds that it will not be able to complete at the current session of this Parliament its inquiries into the matters referred to it for report and, accordingly, recommends:

1. That a corresponding Committee be established and appointed early in the next session of this Parliament to resume the studies and continue the inquiries initiated by this Committee.
2. That the government, in co-operation and consultation with the provincial governments, consider the question of the revision of existing reporting and compilation procedures relating to criminal statistics.
3. That the services of Counsel to the Committee be retained on the same basis as presently authorized until the end of the current session of Parliament for the purpose of completing certain inquiries already instituted.

A copy of the Committee's Minutes of Proceedings and Evidence is tabled herewith.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

1. Pursuant to the order of reference dated February 23rd, 1954, whereby your Committee was authorized to continue to enquire into and report upon the most practical steps toward further implementation of Article 2 of the North Atlantic Treaty, your Committee has heard submissions from ten witnesses representing leading commercial and industrial organizations, as well as economic and trade experts, from other NATO countries.

2. Your Committee is aware of the continuing interest being shown by various groups within this country, as well as without, in achieving a freer trade as contemplated by Article 2 of the North Atlantic treaty and the general desire, as expressed by leaders in these member countries, that conflict in international economic policies be avoided wherever possible.

3. Your Committee realizes that there are additional groups who wish to be heard and that time has not permitted during the present sitting of Parliament to accommodate all those who wish to appear and present their views. For this reason, it has not been possible to complete the findings and submit a final report.

4. Your Committee therefore expresses the hope that at the earliest possible date during the next session of Parliament your Committee may be authorized to complete its work by hearing the remaining witnesses who wish to appear and the preparation of the final report. It is hoped that from this report may emerge constructive ideas for closer economic collaboration among the members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

After which the Honourable the Deputy of the Governor General was pleased to close the First Session of the Twenty-second Parliament of the Dominion of Canada, with the following Speech:—

Honourable Members of the Senate,

Members of the House of Commons:

As I bring the present session to a close, the political tension throughout the world is a grim reminder that the first concern of the government must be the maintenance of the necessary strength to deter aggression while we continue to strive for the establishment of peace in the world.

Our country is meeting every commitment we have made for our national defence and for international projects for relief, rehabilitation, technical assistance and the economic advancement of other peoples materially less fortunate than our own.

Our external trade continues at a high level. Although there is still in Western Canada a huge volume of wheat resulting from three successive record crops, our grain exports continue to exceed the ten year average.

You have approved a trade agreement with Japan designed to assist in developing our growing trade with that country. Trade agreements have also been concluded, for the first time, with Spain and Portugal which, with improved arrangements with Italy and Brazil, should assist us in the recovery of historic markets in those countries.

In recognition of the growing importance of our northern territories, you enacted legislation establishing the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources.

We all rejoiced at the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States which removed the last serious legal obstacle to the development of the St. Lawrence project and which now clears the way for actual construction of both the navigation facilities and the power installations.

The Pipe Lines Act was amended to give jurisdiction to the Board of Transport Commissioners over all companies authorized to construct or operate interprovincial or international oil or gas pipe lines and most of the difficulties in the way of the building of a pipe line to transport natural gas from Alberta to Ontario and Quebec have been overcome.

You enacted a measure to authorize the Canadian National Railway Company to extend its lines in Northern Quebec and Northern Ontario.

The National Housing Act was revised and provision made to increase and broaden the supply of mortgage money so that more people with moderate incomes would be able to find facilities to assist them in building their own homes.

As required by law you made decennial revision of the Bank Act at the present session and extended the charters of the eleven chartered banks for a period of ten years. Among the amendments made were those which permit a bank to make loans on the security of insured mortgages and to make small loans on the security of household goods and chattels. The Quebec Savings Banks Act and the Bank of Canada Act were also revised.

In further recognition of the services of Canada's veterans of two World Wars and of Korea you have made amendments to the War Service Grants Act; the Veterans Land Act; and the Children of War Dead (Education Assistance) Act; the Veterans Benefit Act; and the Pension Act.

You enacted a measure to provide for a federal contribution to the payment in co-operation with the provincial governments of pensions to disabled persons in need over the age of eighteen years. This legislation is a further instalment in the long-range social security programme of the government.

During this session you completed the revision of the Criminal Code.

To meet the situation created by the decision of the Courts that extra-provincial highway transport was under the jurisdiction of this Parliament, you enacted a measure to provide for the regulation in agreement with the provincial authorities of interprovincial and international highway transport by provincial agencies established to regulate highway transport within the several provinces.

Other measures which you enacted included: the Ontario-Manitoba Boundary Act 1953; the United Kingdom Financial Agreement Act 1953; an Act respecting the National Battlefields at Quebec; the Northwest Atlantic Fisheries Convention Act; the Export and Import Permits Act; Fire Losses Replacement Account Act; the Canadian Forces Act 1954; an Act respecting inventions by public servants; and an Act to provide Diplomatic and Consular Immunities for Commonwealth Representatives in Canada.

Amendments have been made to the Animal Contagious Diseases Act; the Explosives Act; the Telegraphs Act; the National Parks Act; the Customs Act; the Acts respecting the Northwest Territories; the Senate and House of Commons Act; the Salaries Act; the Members of Parliament Retiring Allowances Act; the Patent Act; the Post Office Act; the Export Credits Insurance Act; the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act; the Department of Transport Act; the Radio Act; the Public Service Superannuation Act; the Judges Act; the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Act; the Navigable Waters Protection Act; the Canadian Citizenship Act; the Vocational Training Co-ordination Act; the Research Council Act; the National Harbours Board Act; the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act; the Atomic Energy Control Act; the Excise Tax Act; the Act respecting the Superannuation of Government Employees transferred to Crown Corporations; the Income Tax Act; and the Customs Tariff.

Members of the House of Commons:

I thank you for the provision which you have made for all essential services for the current fiscal year.

Honourable Members of the Senate,

Members of the House of Commons:

In relieving you from attendance upon your Parliamentary duties I pray that Divine Providence may guide and bless you.

His Honour the Speaker of the Senate then said:

Honourable Members of the Senate,

Members of the House of Commons:

It is the will and pleasure of the Honourable the Deputy Governor General that this Parliament be prorogued until Thursday, the fifth day of August next, to be here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued until the fifth day of August next.
